

If nothing changes, the girls are likely to repeat the path of their mother.

1 A girl is seen as a family burden and soon married away

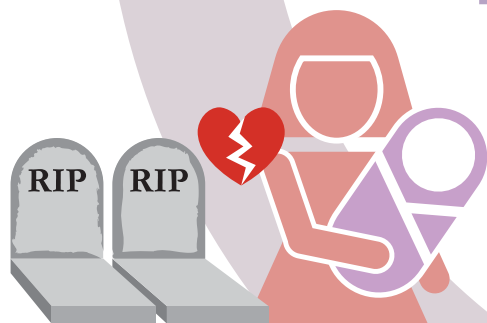

6 She and her children are trapped in a vicious cycle of illness and poverty

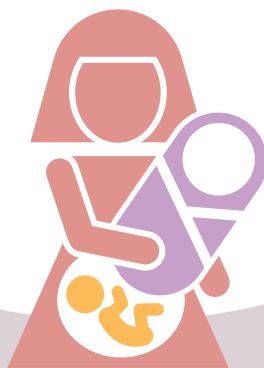

2 She is forced to live with a husband (rarely of her own age or choosing)

the Life of a Child Bride in the Developing World

5 Potential issues: birth complications, underweight babies, stillbirth, or death

4 Her husband or in-laws demand repeated childbearing

3 The girl drops out of school and becomes socially isolated