Can you imagine a daily water journey like this?

Imagine yourself walking from Tsim Sha Tsui to Cheung Sha Wan, carrying two office bottled water on a sunny day. How tiring will that be? Don’t forget the women and girls in developing countries probably have a much more rugged journey, and they risk being attacked.