

Your Red Packet 2023

Children in South Sudan have long been suffering from conflict and poverty. Worse still, the deteriorating food crisis and severe floods in recent years have swept away many houses and farmlands, resulting in a lot of people being displaced as they lost their homes and livelihoods.

Please join us in helping them! Encourage your students to donate their red packets to help the displaced children and families in South Sudan. You will be able to support them by providing relief items such as emergency food, clean water, living essentials, seeds and farming tools to improve their dwelling condition.
